

Reframing Advocacy:
Margin to Center
Approaches to end
Gender Based Violence

Conversation at the Table: 1

- What is the role of survivors and survivor stories as a strategy for advocacy?
- Where, how, when and why do you use the stories? Are the uses of stories different for domestic violence or sexual violence or other forms contained within the Life Time Spiral?

Conversation at the Table: 1

Each program will write the answer on a “tile” and stick it on the “map”:

- Tell us about one exciting way you have used stories as an advocacy strategy you address a form of gender-based violence.

Share your story on the larger “tile”

Conversation at the Table: 2

- Will some of your advocacy strategies change as a result of the conversation? If so, how? If not, why not?
- How will the stories create a vision for activism for the change you want to see?

Conversation at the Table: 2

Each program will write the answer on a “tile” and stick it on the “map”:

- Tell us about one exciting way you have used stories as an advocacy strategy you address a form of gender-based violence.

Share your story on the larger “tile”