Directory of Domestic and Gender Violence Programs Serving Asians, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders

Updated May 2023
About the Directory

This Directory of Domestic and Gender Violence Programs Serving Asians, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders is compiled by the Asian Pacific Institute on Gender-Based Violence, a resource center on domestic and other types of abuse in Asian and Pacific Islander communities. We have attempted to be as systematic as possible, to include organizations serving immigrant and refugee women from Central, East, South, Southeast, and West Asia; as well as from Hawai‘i and the Pacific Islands. We have not systematically been able to list resources for women from other communities. While we have listed which individuals agencies provide culturally-responsive services to, all agencies listed in the Directory serve victims and survivors from all communities.

We make our best attempt to reach agencies to self-report their service information and language capacity; when this was not possible, we update agencies’ information based on our best knowledge. That said, service and language capacity can change frequently; therefore users should reach out to agencies directly for the most updated information.

This directory is also available online, with search and filter options at api-gbv.org/directory

For questions, corrections and/or to request additional information, please contact the Asian Pacific Institute on Gender-Based Violence by email at info@api-gbv.org or by phone at 415-568-3315.
